My Story

At 18 years old, I was still a virgin. A scrawny, pimply faced kid with a mouth full of metal (those darn braces!). My 'goal' at the time was to wait until marriage to have sex. Sure – I justified this 'goal' as something that I chose because of the religion I was brought up with, but that wasn't the whole story. Truth be told...

I was scared.

Scared of kissing a woman. Scared of being rejected by a woman. It just seemed easier to sit on the sidelines and make excuses (or religious 'goals') while the other guys at school seemed to have women completely figured out.

I still remember fantasizing about being really 'smooth' – playing videos in my head of winning over the heart of the cutest girl in school.

Does any of this sound familiar in your life?

I could get a girl interested in me here and there, but it was just a matter of time before she put her sights on someone else. Someone that actually had some clue about what women want (Gosh if I could turn back time, I would RULE the school hahaha).

Everything changed for me one day... after yet another rejection.

Repair Your Texting

This rejection was different. This was one of those rejections you just never can shake. I so badly wanted this girl with EVERYTHING in me.

Have you ever pictured yourself living happily ever-after with a certain woman in your life?

Did you think, “WHY doesn’t she understand that I would treat her like a queen? I would do ANYTHING for her!”

I realize now as I reflect on the past, that she DID understand. She understood loud and clear that I would do absolutely anything to be with her. The problem wasn’t my lack of caring... the problem is that is not what SHE wanted. That is not what any woman wants (at least at first).

This rejection happened after another typical ‘nice guy’ date – my third one with a beautiful 17 year old girl named Lindsey (don’t worry don’t worry, I was only 18 at the time).

I had been working up the courage for days and days now, and I was FINALLY ready to kiss her. Or at least I told myself I was.

As I was driving her home from the picnic we had at a local elementary school (coincidentally the school I now teach at) – I could see the moment presenting itself.

Here it was. As I walked her to her door, I knew it was my big chance to go in for the kiss. She gave me ALL the signs she was ready to be kissed (even back then when I didn’t know the clues to look for, I could just FEEL it was the time).

Repair Your Texting

My hands started shaking.

I could feel my breathing speed up.

My mind raced over every potential disaster that could come from her rejecting my move.

That is when the dreaded PARALYSIS OF ANALYSIS kicked in. Overthinking... and underperforming.

My nerves got the better of me and yet again - I chickened out, made excuses, and left the date that night kicking myself for not kissing her.

The following few days were pure torture. My frustration continued to build as I was sitting around just WAITING for Lindsey to text me. I just wanted to hear from her. I wanted to know what she was thinking. I wanted her to be my girlfriend...

After three days had passed, I learned that she had a new boyfriend... and it wasn't me.

This was one of those moments in life that, at the time, seemed to be the end of the world. Nothing about that whole situation seemed positive. Nothing seemed fair. The universe had spread out my legs and kicked me directly in the balls.

But time does have a funny way of turning enemy into ally.

Years later I now see it for what it really was... A gift from the heavens above that would give me just the motivation I needed to TAKE ACTION... and educate myself to the great mystery of the female mind.

Repair Your Texting

I will forever thank that Lindsey girl though, because she did me a huge favor that most women won't do.

She was nice enough to be honest with me and tell me what had gone wrong.

I still remember the text like it was yesterday... like a dagger piercing my heart... "I'm sorry Adam. I really did like you. You just... you never kissed me. I wanted you to kiss me and you never did."

And that is what it took. That was the final straw.

THAT WAS THE MISTAKE THAT CREATED MY DESIRE TO BE BETTER!

From that moment on I promised myself something. I vowed that I would NEVER ruin another chance with a woman by being scared to make a move.

That moment sparked a continuous journey still ongoing to this very day. I became obsessed with learning every 'secret' I could to know anything and everything about women. I mean EVERYTHING.

Every 'pick-up line', every trick, every psychological strategy to improve my success. My learning journey started from a $97 e-book just like this one... (Wait – maybe I need to charge more... oops).

I've come a long way since then –

Repair Your Texting

9 straight years of being officially single and ready to mingle.

But it is most important for you to know one thing...

I UNDERSTAND.

I feel your pain...

Your frustration...

Your anger.

Something snapped in my brain that day. I decided ENOUGH IS ENOUGH! I became a student possessed. I wanted to know every aspect of women and relationships.

More importantly - I wanted to arm myself with a shield from suffering any future heartbreak.

The Transformation

The day that girl broke my heart changed me forever. It helped me morph into the man I am today, and I am so grateful and fortunate enough to have been burned bad enough that it ignited my desire to learn.

That was my wake up call. I've never gone back to my old 'nice guy' ways with women.

Am I a nice guy?

Yes – to everyone that is nice and respectful back.

The difference?

I now stand up for myself when I need to... with men, with women, with life.

I vowed I would never blow it with a woman again by being scared to make a move. That mindset has been the biggest factor in my success with dating to this day. But that mindset didn't come overnight.

So how did I get so ahead of the game?

I became OBSESSED. I was the guy in college locking my dorm room door so I could privately read books like, The Game by Neil Straus in secret – while analyzing it with note after note in a flimsy spiral binder.

Repair Your Texting

When I say OBSESSED I really mean it.

How obsessed??

- I've read over 85 different books covering dating advice for men and women (both sides of the story have helped me internalize dating from all perspectives).
- I've read books by misogynists, I've read books by feminists, and I've read books by pimps.
- I have purchased over $7,000 worth of products teaching dating/seduction through e-books, video courses, or membership sites to learn the most specific and unique strategies on every aspect of the dating world.

In short I have obsessively gathered a BOUNTY of knowledge that I still add to and improve upon to this day.

And now my job is to share that knowledge with you ... starting with two of the biggest 'myths' that hurt men in the dating world today.

Stop Believing *these 2 Myths

Understand That Women Are Not the Enemy

It is easy in today's world to get upset and frustrated with the girls in your life. That's a copout though. Was there ever a time in your past that a woman was really interested in you, and you were not attracted to her for whatever reason? Even if she was the sweetest girl in the world, if you aren't attracted to her, it's just the way it is. With that understanding in mind, think back on some of your past crushes you've had that did not feel the same way about you. Was there another man in her life? Did she have an interest in someone else?

If so – what good comes from blaming her for not being attracted to you? Blaming others is easy, but it completely takes the power out of your hands to change the situation. Instead, just learn how to 'level-up' to become the man that she IS interested in. Don't leave it up to chance.

It is time to dispel two common 'myths' that are still so common in our society and a HUGE reason why most men text themselves out of a woman's life.

Repair Your Texting

Myth #1: Women want you to TRY HARDER and never give up no matter how many times they shut you down.

That sure makes for a nice romance movie plot. Even a nice hallmark card. But let me frame it in a way that may make you see the real truth about why this is such an incredible load of B.S.

Picture yourself shopping for a new car. You just want to look around and browse for a while to get a feel for what car really speaks to you. You have no plans to buy one right this instant... unless something feels perfect. Then that dreaded slick-haired snaky salesman approaches you...

Sure they are nice, outgoing, and friendly. Sure they can answer questions you may have. But they also have that aura that makes you feel pressured to buy. You may be able to get away with a quick, "I'm just looking"... but we both know that doesn't always work.

Would you want this car salesman to show this same PERSISTENCE even after you turn him down? Would you want him to call and text you every day pressuring you to buy the car? Would you be excited if he showed up at midnight on your front lawn throwing pebbles at your window to wake you up and spill his guts about how great this car is and how badly you need to own it?

NO... NO... And a BIG FAT NO!

I hope that example was a good enough explanation in itself... but if not I will make it extremely simple and easy to remember.

Repair Your Texting

WOMEN WANT WHAT THEY CAN'T HAVE.

It is human nature.

You want the woman that you can't quite figure out. If you are like me, you also may decide that a completely attractive woman may become less desirable as soon as they tell you how much they like you.

I don't hate on nature, I learn from it.

IT'S HUMAN NATURE. Trust it. Don't overthink it. Don't give me the, "But she is different". Blah blah blah blah – either adapt or die single.

Myth number 2: She will forget about you if you don't constantly contact her

This one was really hard for me to overcome at first. I always felt that if I hadn't heard from a woman for a few days (even a few hours) that I needed to do something. It is natural to feel this way, but that doesn't mean it is a good mindset to have.

It is also natural to be naked. However, you've learned to put clothes on before going into public. Now you just need to learn to control the temptations of NEEDING to get a text from her.

Don't get sucked in to thinking you NEED to take action and call or text her.

Quite the opposite actually.

Repair Your Texting

You must understand that women have a TON of men constantly fighting for their attention.

So how do you stand out?

Stop fighting for her attention!

She will eventually wonder why YOU aren't texting her just like all of the other men in her life.

Then SHE will reach out to you. And if she doesn't?

Then she was not romantically interested in you and never was going to be. Accept it and realize you just saved a lot of WASTED energy by not pursuing this woman any further.

*note* THAT is the mindset that sets you up for success. Own the "Plenty of fish in the sea" mantra. Live it. It'll pay off beyond your wildest dreams.

Eager Earl: Must Text Back NOW!

Word:

Eager

Definition:

Wanting to do or have something very much

In other words:

Anxious, Impatient

Symptoms:

- Always waiting around the phone for a text
- Taking only minutes between each reply

Cure:

Read in depth about 'Mirror Texting' in *The Prince-iples of Texting*

Are you Earl?

The Eager Earl is one of the quickest ways to lose a woman.

Why?

Because: You can't hide an Eager Earl personality for very long. It may be flattering to a woman that you are really interested in her... for about three texts. Then you quickly become 'annoying'. The challenge and the chase are gone.

This is not 'manipulation' – it is truth. (Continue reading to see if you potentially fall under this category).

Just remember... if you find this MAY be you, the best thing to do is to accept it. In fact, the more you can relate to these make-believe personas, the better. That means you have ENORMOUS room for growth – which should give you a light at the end of the tunnel knowing this can be solved.

We all know that feeling of getting a brand new, shiny, exciting phone number. We also all know that feeling of wondering, "When should I text her?". There are many different 'theories' on how to approach this situation. I have waited days to send a first text, I've also texted right away, and pretty much everything in between. Stick with whatever you are comfortable with because that is really not much of a big deal.

What is important is to AVOID sending the Eager Earl vibe!

3 Signs of an Eager Earl

1) Do you text her back within minutes of her texting you?

Problem: You know that feeling when your parents keep pestering you with questions?

Answering them soon starts to feel like a 'chore'.

Ever played fetch with a dog and eventually got tired of throwing the ball... but that dog kept coming back – NEVER seeming to tire?

Playing fetch no longer feels like 'playing', it feels like a chore.

Texting someone back RIGHT AWAY makes your texts soon feel like an 'obligation' and 'chore' to keep up with.

- 2) Do you text her back no matter what time of day it is, without second thought?

Problem: This can make it seem like you have nothing going for you in your life.

For example:

I am a 2nd grade teacher. If I text a woman back all morning... she will start to wonder if I am a terrible teacher. “What is his class doing while he is on his phone?”

You may not think much about the ‘time of day’ when you send a text, but she may when she receives it.

3) Do you send her multiple texts before she responds?

Problem: She will get lazy texting you back. In her mind she will know, “Eh, if I don’t respond to this text, he will just text me again later.”

This creates a downward cycle. One day she responds after every text. Then she waits for you to text her twice to respond. Eventually you have NO idea when she will finally respond.

When she knows she has you, you start to become a ‘maybe’ option for hanging out. She will know she can bail on you at any time for a higher quality guy, and you will keep coming back to her afterwards.
BAD PLACE TO BE!

Angry Alex: Do What I Say!

Word:

Anger

Definition:

Strong feeling of annoyance, displeasure, or hostility.

In other words:

Rage, Irritation, Emotional

Symptoms:

- Getting overly jealous for little reason
- Being rude or upset when not getting your way
- Throwing a tantrum through texts

Cure:

Take a chill pill... read some books by Eckhart Tolle and focus on the things you can be grateful for in your life.

Are you Alex?

The Angry Alex may take longer for a woman to see in you, but it will make you an enemy to her friends and family. Angry Alex can give you one of the worst reputations. Sure... there is a time and place to show a LITTLE jealousy, that shows a woman you care. This is far different than the constant patterns of emotional outbursts this man shows.

Nothing screams 'I HAVE INSECURITIES ABOUT MYSELF!' faster than Angry Alex. Although this is curable, this will take a lot of self-work to correct permanently. I, however, can show you many ways to completely disguise this trait from a woman while you are working on yourself in the meantime (If this is you, please do work on yourself. A healthy relationship can only blossom if you have a healthy mind).

As men we are supposed to be the rock. Think steady... never too high and never too low. It needs to be consistent so she can trust your presence as a man. When you show signs of anger through your texting, it opens up a whole can of fears and doubts in her mind about you. If you aren't able to stay in control of YOUR emotions, how can she rely on you to be there for her when SHE is getting emotional?

3 Signs of an Angry Alex

- 1) When she is hanging out with her friends, do you constantly ask her: “Who else is going to be there?”

Problem: No one likes to feel babysat. This puts her in the ‘defensive mode’ and makes her worry that you will get upset if any other guy shows up that she didn’t expect.

In time this will lead to her possibly ‘lying’ just to prevent a fight from happening, eventually creating a resentful, unhealthy, and NOT fun relationship.

2) Do you always try to 'control her' and tell her what to do?

Problem: This just tells her that you feel so out of control in your own life, that being able to 'control her' makes you feel better.

Women want a man in control of HIS OWN LIFE, not of HER LIFE.

3) Do you get upset if she doesn't text you back quickly?

Problem: See 'Eager Earl'

**Important Note About Anger****

Men are biologically built to be bigger and stronger than most women. If you show signs of anger through your texting, she will be extremely scared to be alone with you in person.

As men we do not typically have these 'physical worries' – but women do... and you need to respect that if you ever want to be a quality man in a woman's eyes.

Drunk Texting Dennis: Com Pick Me uP

Word:

Drunk

Definition: Affected by alcohol to the extent of losing control of one's behavior.

In other words:

Sloshed, Hammered, Inebriated

Symptoms:

- When the 2nd drink goes down the phone comes out
- Texting is hArDly ReaDable
- Texts into the early morning (midnight and on)

Cure:

Read about 'Ending Conversations' and 'Emotional Endurance' in *The Prince-iples of Texting*

Are you Dennis?

This may be the most normal of texting mistakes that men and women both make. In fact, if you drink, this is bound to happen at some point. I'll admit I still do this from time to time. However... a Dennis does this WAY TOO OFTEN. I have a friend that does this every night he drinks. It is important to forgive yourself for a silly mistake like this, just CAUTION yourself from mistake #1 (below).

As you continue to read more material, my goal for you is to help your *emotional endurance' grow. \(Your ability to prevent yourself from letting your emotions take over and send a message you know you shouldn't).*

Just remember: Practice makes permanent.

If you practice bad habits, they will continue. So set minor goals when going out drinking.

Repair Your Texting

Here are two goals for you to try:

Goal #1-

Try keeping your phone in your pocket the whole night

Goal #2-

-If you need more support, GIVE YOUR PHONE TO A FRIEND. Do not let them give it back to you. (I have done this and it worked wonders in my earlier stages.)

3 Signs of a Drunk Dennis

- 1) You make excuses and say, “I always do it when I drink, I can’t help it!”

Problem: This is the WORST possible attitude to have. You are literally giving yourself an excuse to continue with this worthless behavior. This becomes a crutch for you and a self-fulfilling prophecy that continues forever.

I already admitted this still happens sometimes for me. Although this is rare. Guess what... one night of drunk texting can completely ruin your chance with a woman you otherwise did everything right with.

It has ruined a few chances for me, and I have practiced everything in this book series for years. You cannot afford to live with this drunk texting mindset. Decide right now you will at least TRY to work on it.

- 2) Do you wake up after a night of drinking with responses from a woman like,
“Umm what were you trying to say?”

Problem: Either you are a horrendous speller, or more than likely you texted some nonsense that the girl cannot read. Neither option does you any good.

- 3) Do you immediately pull out your phone when you are at a party or at the bars with friends?

Problem: PUT THAT PHONE AWAY and work on creating a fun party around you.

That way you can get a woman's number and start fresh with no texting mistakes ;).

Pleaser Pete: You Are So Amazing!

Word:

Pleaser

Definition:

To make glad; Be agreeable

In other words:

“Nice guy”, friend zone material, backup option (in case a guy with game breaks her heart and she needs a shoulder to cry on).

Symptoms:

- Afraid to say “No”
- Act like a doormat (walked all over by others)
- Have no confidence in your own opinions

Cure:

Read about ‘Fire and Forget’ in

*The Prince-Iples of Texting*

Are you Pete?

The Pleaser Pete is by far the most common type of man that has frustrations with women. On paper you do EVERYTHING right. You want to treat her like a princess, you make her feel special, and you notice her beauty (constantly). I relate most with this type of man, because I had many of these 'symptoms'. A Pleaser Pete typically has the hardest time staying out of the dreaded 'friend zone'.

If you are a Pleaser Pete then rejoice, this was very difficult for me to overcome, but when I did, my success SKYROCKETED with women. This mentality is typically very confusing, because on paper we seem to be the man every woman SAYS they want. How many times have you heard something along the lines of:

"All I want is a nice guy".
"I'm so sick of all of the douche bags out there; I want a man that treats me like a princess".

The problem is nice guys have only a few of the traits that a woman is BIOLOGICALLY programmed to want in a man. The 'douchebag' possesses many more traits that she biologically wants. However, when the nice guy learns game (aka with information like this), he will stand with zero competition against any douchebags. Pleasing Pete's are my favorite to help since they are genuinely nice people, they just need a little kick in the pants to man up.

3 Signs of a Pleaser Pete

- 1) Are you always asking how she's feeling?

Problem: Women want a man to instinctively KNOW how she is feeling (by reading her body signals/cues).

I know... it doesn't seem fair, but it's easier than you think. If you constantly ask her, "HOW ARE YOU FEELING?" it shows a lack of confidence in your own ability to read her signs she sends you. The men that understand a woman can tell when she is upset, they don't need to ask.

2) Do you say YES to requests just because you don't want to upset her?

Problem: This comes off as very desperate.

It is 'nice' to say yes and make her feel good, but it is not 'attractive'. She will see you as a 'Great friend' that she can always turn to, therefore placing you in the friend zone.

Say 'Yes' when YOU want to, NOT because you are worried what she will think if you were to say no.

*Remember***

Women (and Men) want what they CAN'T have...

3) Do you agree with everything she says?

Problem: A woman cannot trust a man that agrees with everything.

Here's a very simple example:

Her: "Do you like the color red or green better?"

You: "Green"

Her: "Red is better"

You: "Oh ya... I actually do like red better"

She now can never take your opinions seriously... because you don't have ANY of your own.

Validation Vinny: Do You Still Like Me?

Word:

Validation

Definition:

Seeking approval or confirmation from someone else

In other words:

Being needy

Symptoms:

- Looking to others for direction
- Trusting others more than yourself
- Judging your own value off what others think

Cure:

Read 'Poker Player Texting' in *The Prince-iples of Texting*

Are you Vinny?

The best example I can come up with for ‘seeking validation’ is in the classroom setting. Think back to elementary school.

There is one teacher, and a class full of 20-30 other kids. This creates an environment where ‘validation’ can happen often.

“Teacher! Teacher! Look at my drawing!
Do You Like It?””

Validation is simply looking at others to make you feel good.

As a teacher I respond with, “Well - Do YOU like it?” This technique is used for keeping children responsible for taking pride in their work. That way they won’t need validation from the teacher to make them feel good.

3 Signs of a Validation Vinny

1) Do you ask her if she likes you?

Problem: This immediately sends her the message that you are not confident in yourself.

Remember: Confident men will be able to read her signs and signals and KNOW she is interested. If you feel that you are a Quality Man with a lot to offer, you won't bother thinking, "Does she like me?". You will KNOW she does... or know many other women like you so you won't sweat just one woman.

**note* - Try not to be discouraged if you have a hard time seeing yourself thinking like that. You will in time. The more you improve yourself and your 'game', this confidence WILL come naturally.*

2) You ask her, “Is that alright?” after making a decision or statement.

Problem: What if she says, “No”?
Then what will you do? Women don’t like to be the decision makers in a relationship.

Think of James Bond.

How many times does he ask a woman,
“Is that okay?”

He doesn’t. He is confident in himself so he never questions it.

3) Do you often wonder if she thinks of you as just a friend?

Problem: If this thought goes through your head constantly, she WILL pick up on it. That will place her as the ‘decision maker’ on whether you are friends or more than friends. We already know women really don’t like to be the decision makers.

Watch a mother with a baby. Her ‘mother’s intuition’ is a skill that almost all of us men lack. Women are really good at picking up little clues in others – so if you are thinking you may be ‘just a friend’, that is exactly the category she will put you in intuitively.

Changing the way you THINK about women is the single greatest habit you can practice.
